VULKAN LOKRING

In the historic building of the HYDRAMA Hotel in Greece VULKAN Lokring Technology has been used for the installation of the central air conditioning

An old tobacco factory from 1924 was rebuilt into a luxury 5-star hotel with 7,500m²

The Hydrama Grand Hotel is located in the city of Drama in the North of Greece, about 147 kilometers from Thessaloniki. As most of the Greek cities, Drama is a town with a long history. The building in which the hotel has emerged is an almost century-old tobacco factory with partly wooden constructions.

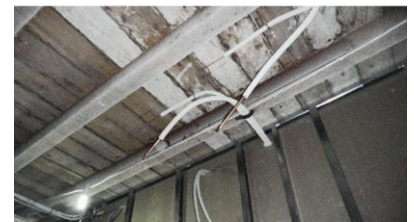

It was a great competition in deciding who will get the contract to make the installation for this extensive remodeling project. Finally the company Choursoulidis was the winner. The decisive factor was the decision that Choursoulidis has proposed the use of LOKRING for the connection of tubes. Due to the special wood construction of the building the solder-free LOKRING Technology was the best solution.

A total of 5,000 meters of tubes were used and more than 2,500 LOKRING connections have been installed for the VRF-air conditioning system with 63 inside and 19 outside units.

The result:

100 % success! No leakage at all!

Mr. Choursoulidis Ahileas - the president of the company - said that all expectations were exceeded.

The HYDRAMA Grand HOTEL is open since 10th April 2016.
